TAKE ON THE VOLCANOES

Worldwide Experiences | Iceland

Driving up active Volcanoes and through lava fields in giant 4x4 trucks is something truly awesome, but to do that on the same day as you cross giant glaciers makes it all the more special and memorable. Pushing man and machine to its limits adds to the fun of this exhilarating adventure. You'll visit some stunning remote locations in frosty Iceland, giving you a prime position to spot the magnificent and universally adored northern lights. Of course, the opportunity to unwind in the famous Blue Lagoon is also high up on the agenda for this once-in-a-lifetime trip away.

ICELAND

Nordic Iceland is one of the most sparsely populated countries in Europe, and the only Mid-Atlantic Ridge that rises above sea-level, with its central volcanic plateau erupting constantly. Sand, mountains, lava fields and glaciers cover the island, warmed by the Gulf Stream creating a temperate climate, despite its high latitudes. The island is geologically incredibly active, with a multitude of volcanoes including Eldgja, Eldfell, Hekla and Heroubreio.
