

Guinness Six Nations Tournament 2024

England | Ireland | Wales | Scotland | France | Italy

2 February – 16 March 2024

The Six Nations Championship, often simply referred to as the Six Nations, is an annual international rugby union competition involving six European nations: England, France, Ireland, Italy, Scotland, and Wales. The tournament traditionally takes place in February and March each year.

The teams compete against each other in a round-robin format, with each team playing every other team once, alternately hosting and visiting. Teams earn points based on their match results, with two points awarded for a win, one point for a draw, and bonus points available for scoring four or more tries or losing by a small margin.

Ireland won the tournament in 2023 for a 15th time, along with a 13th Triple Crown and a fourth Grand Slam; it was also the first time they won the title in Dublin.
